

'JEKYLL AND HYDE' MAN
LOVED BY MAINE GIRL, WHO WILL WED HIM

Dual Personality of Haverford Graduate Will Not Deter Her, Young Librarian Says

MARRIAGE ON NEW YEAR'S

Loring P. Crossman, the Haverford College graduate who confessed to a 'Jekyll-and-Hyde' career when he was arrested for frightening young women at Elizabeth, N. J., will be married on New Year's Day.

His fiancée is Miss Florence Hawkes, of Portland, Me., a graduate of Simmons College and a public librarian at the L.B.M. building. They had set their wedding for the first of the new year, but it was believed when Crossman was arrested that the wedding would be postponed until the young man had had a "long rest." For that reason the name of his fiancée had been kept secret.

Miss Hawkes let it be known today, however, that she intended to marry the Haverford man whether he had a dual personality or not. "Close friends of the couple said the wedding would take place on New Year's, as had been planned by Crossman and Miss Hawkes before his escapades were discovered."

Crossman and his father, George L. Crossman, president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce and former Mayor of 1890, arrived in Portland today from Elizabeth, where the young man had been fined $100 on the complaint of three young women whom he had driven into a panic as they were on their way to their homes in the evening.

Mr. Crossman paid his son's fine, which saved the youth from spending several months in jail, and did not utter a word of reproach. The disorder into which his son's mind had temporarily fallen was the result of overwork at Haverford College, he said, and he had not the slightest doubt that he would recover. Crossman had an enviable record at Haverford, having done exceptionally well in his studies.

In his confession to the Elizabeth police, Crossman said that one day he had been sitting on the broad campus of the college doing some necessary "outside" reading, part of his course in English. He read Robert Louis Stevenson's story of "Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Doctor Krauss' Salary Raised

The Civil Service Commission today approved the requisition received from the Department of Public Health and Charities for the promotion of Dr. Walter B. Krauss, clinical assistant physician, Bureau of Charities, $500 a year, to the position of clinical assistant physician, Bureau of Charities, $750 a year.

16 SEEK ONE POSITION
Examination for Place of Chief of Vital Statistics Division

Sixteen persons, a number of whom are at present employed by the Department of Health and Charities, have entered into competition for the position of chief of the Division of Vital Statistics, made vacant by the resignation of Miss Neva Deardorff.

The civil service examination for the position will be held tomorrow, and it is understood that Miss Deardorff will continue to serve until her successor is finally appointed, either by Director Ziegler or his successor. Recently James Leslie, Jr., support clerk in the Bureau of Charities, was provisionally appointed, but the appointment was withdrawn and the position retained by the present chief. The position carries a salary of $1750 a year.

Examinations by the commissions are being held today for the positions of steel inspector, blue printer and apprentice. A total of 33 persons made up today's classes.

Supplee Milk is not blended

THERE'S no shady practice applied to Supplee Milk—it is as pure and rich as the herds produce it.

Supplee Milk is not blended with skim milk, neither is the cream line at the top of the milk jar distorted by the addition of homogenized cream, or machine manipulation intended to deceive the buyer.

Supplee customers get a square deal; there are no tricks—no short cuts permitted with Supplee products. Supplee Milk is not blended. It comes to you with all of its native richness.

This is a Subpoena to attend Perry's One Week of Intensified Values in Suits and Overcoats at $15

THIS IS THE SECOND DAY! And the penalty for non-attendance is remorse!

It was no joke to corral the fabrics for these 500 Suits and 500 Overcoats. We had to go through the mills with a lantern, searching out fabrics worthy to sustain the reputation of these Perry Intensified Value Weeks. And at that, we doubt if we could have done it without the influence of friends at court—mill men from whom we buy cloth lavishly every season.

We took the entire surplus yardage from several mills in fabrics of regular $20, $22.50 and $25 qualities, and have made them up into Perry Suits and Overcoats that will signalize this week of

Intensified Values in Suits and Overcoats at $15

The Overcoats are staple Oxfords and Oxford mixtures; staple grays and gray mixtures; staple blues and bluish mixtures; staple brownish mixtures cut over the most wanted models of the season.

The Suits are silk mixed and fancy worsted mixtures; cassimeres, tartan plaids, blue serges.

They are regular $20, $22.50 and $25 qualities at $15 for this one week only.
